

Y. W. BURTON SHOT AND KILLED BY SON-IN-LAW

Henry Hudson, Farmer, South of Hustonsville, Says It Was Case of "Kill or Be Killed"

Yates W. Burton, of Wayne county, was shot and instantly killed by Henry Hudson, his son-in-law, at the latter's home on the Cut-off pike between Hustonsville and McKinney and three miles south of the former place about nine o'clock Sunday night. Hudson, who was arrested and is in jail at Stanford, claims that he fired at his wife's father in self defense. "It was a case of kill or be killed," he said at the county jail Monday.

Particulars of the unfortunate affair will probably not be known until the examining trial of Hudson is held in the county court. The only witnesses to the killing beside himself were his wife, a daughter of the dead man, and Grover Ard, who is said to have gone to the Hudson house with Burton, and to have seen the whole affair. He went to the home of Willis Routon, soon after the shooting and what he or Mrs. Hudson have to say about the tragedy has not been learned.

Sheriff J. G. Weatherford, Deputy Sheriff W. S. Drye and Chief of Police B. D. Carter, of Stanford, went to Hustonsville late Sunday night and arrested Hudson and brought him to jail here.

According to the story Hudson told them, Burton and Hudson were partners in the farm of about 230 acres, known as the old Cloyd place, which lies about three miles south-east of Hustonsville on what is sometimes called the Hill pike to McKinney.

Burton, who has lived in Wayne for several years since going out of the saloon business in Somerset, went to Hudson's home about nine o'clock Sunday night. He had evidently ridden through from Wayne county and was accompanied by Grover Ard. As soon as he got in the door, he asked his daughter, who had opened it for him, where Hudson was, and the latter, who had retired for the night, got out of bed and came out where they were. The officers say that Hudson told them that Burton demanded to know which was his half of the house and that he wanted Hudson to either get out or to rent his half of it and to pay him $75 for it. Hudson told the officers that he informed Burton that he did not want to rent Burton's half of the house, and that the rooms on the east side had been vacated by him and his wife and were Burton's if he wanted them.

Hudson says that immediately Burton began to abuse and curse him, calling him several vile names. He says that Burton put his hand in his pocket to draw a pistol, and started toward him, when he shot. One bullet struck Burton on the right thigh and went through without striking the bone. The other ball which is thought to have caused the wound that produced death, struck Burton just above the breast on the left side, and ranged downward. Burton fell instantly and is said to have expired at once.

The men were about ten feet apart when the shots were fired, according to what Hudson told the officers. A pearl handled 38-calibre Smith & Wesson pistol was found in this inside pocket of Burton's coat by the officers. Hudson killed him with a revolver of the same calibre. Hudson says that his wife told him that her father had been drinking, but of this he does not know himself.

Grover Ard, who went to the house with Burton, telephoned to Hustonsville and a nephew of the dead man phoned here to Sheriff Weatherford. Upon the story that Ard and Mrs. Hudson told, will undoubtedly depend the fate of her husband.

So far as known, both of the principals of the tragedy bore good reputations and their friends deeply regret the affair. Burton and Hudson bought the farm on which the latter and his wife live in partnership a few years ago. Hudson says that he and his father-in-law had no trouble previously.

County Judge Bailey has fixed Thursday morning at 9 o'clock as the time for the examining trial of Hudson. The latter has engaged Judge John Sam Owensley to defend him. The funeral of Burton was held at Hustonsville Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Danville Court.

On account of the inclement weather a small crowd attended court at Danville Monday and business was dull. There were no cattle on the market but buyers were present and good prices would have been realized had there been any. Several mule buyers were on hand and a number of them for army purposes changed hands at $125 to $140. Mack Hughes bought a pair of Nimrod Buster for $270, and several at the above prices. The tobacco markets were the attractive places of the day, and a good deal of the weed was sold. Prices ranged all the way from three cents to 19 1-4 cents, the latter being for a choice basket.

It was a case of love at first sight and the marriage of Saturday is the culmination of a happy, but brief love affair.

CALOMEL SALIVATES

Calomel makes you sick and you use a day's work. Calomel is a nasty, dangerous chemical. To loosen your sluggish liver and bowels when constipated, head-achy, bilious, just get a 10-cent box of harmless Chamberlain's. They work while you sleep, don't gripe, sicken or salivate.

CICERO GOOCH IS NO MORE

Prominent Resident of Waynesburg
Passes Away Friday

Cicero Gooch, one of the most respected and prominent citizens of the southern section of Lincoln county, died at his home at Waynesburg Friday afternoon, after a lengthy illness of stomach trouble and complications. Mr. Gooch was very well known in Stanford, where he lived for about a year part of that time being proprietor of the St. Asaph Hotel. He made many warm friends while here who regret exceedingly to learn that he is no more. The deceased was 52 years of age and is survived by his wife. He was a son of L. G. Gooch, a member of one of the most prominent families of Lincoln county and a high-toned gentleman and a worthy citizen in every way. For some time since removing back to Waynesburg he had conducted a store at Waynesburg. He had been for many years of his life a faithful and devoted member of Baptist church. He was also a member of the lodge of Odd Fellows. Funeral services were conducted by the former Baptist pastor, Rev. J. B. Jones, Saturday afternoon, after which the mortal remains of this good man were laid to rest in the Waynesburg cemetery. Quite a number of friends from here went up to the burial.

GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY SAVES TWO CHILDREN IN ONE FAMILY

About one year ago two of my children suffered badly from weak kidneys. They would have severe spells of dizziness and were all run down in health. I was just about discouraged. I tried several remedies and finally a doctor, but they did not seem to improve. I knew of a friend who was taking Swamp-Root for kidney trouble with good results and I decided to get some for the children. I had noticed that there was some improvement after they had taken two large bottles and continued to give it to them until they had taken one-half dozen bottles and were well on the road to recovery. I think Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root has done more for my children than any other medicine I have tried and recommend it to anyone having children that suffer as mine did.

Very truly yours,

R. W. LISENBY.

Personally appeared before me this 2nd day of July, 1909, R. W. Lisenby, who subscribed to the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and fact.

Brodhead Prepares for Big Fair.

Brodhead, Jan. 18.—The directors of the Brodhead Fair Association met last week for the purpose of electing officers for this year. The election resulted in retaining J. G. Frith, president; R. H. Hamm, vice-president; John Robins, secretary; A. M. Hiatt, treasurer; the only change being the election of Superintendent, R. S. Shivel, succeeding B. A. Yaden. The dates set for holding the coming fair are August 11, 12 and 13, and the management will lose no time in laying the foundation for the biggest fair ever pulled off here and that is saying something too. It is the purpose of the directors to enlarge the grounds in order to accommodate such big crowds as we had on the second day last year, for they realize that had the weather man not been against us, the people, or a part of them would have been forced to climb trees to get breathing room. All we ask is three first-class days, and we will do the rest, not doubting the results.

Dr. Isaac S. Warren, for years a prominent physician of Somerset, is dead after a brief illness. He was a brother of Judge R. C. Warren, and was an exceedingly able surgeon. THIS AND THAT.

A Little Here and a Little There, and a Little From Everywhere

Mrs. William Mullins, a daughter of William Tyre, of Perryville, is dead at Danville.

Hon. Maurice Farris has submitted the Danville Fair Grounds to W. H. Evans, of Garrard.

Mattie Brinker, a comely girl of 18, was caught in the machinery of a saw mill in Pulaski county.

Rev. James Hurley, of Science Hill is dead of paralysis. He had been a worker in the Master's Vineyard for many years.

Capt. Ed Pelly, who represented the Russell-Casey district with credit, in the Legislature of a dozen years ago, wants to do so again.

January had a full moon on the first and will have another on the 30th. This is said to be the first time in 100 years that such a thing has occurred.

The Danville Advocate is so glad that the Knights of Pythias are going to have a fair in Stanford that it gave two good notices of it. Bully for old "Mac."

Gus Williams, aged and well known actor, cut his throat in a railway station at Yonkers, N. Y. He had been on the stage over fifty years.

Roscoe Conkling Tartar, who made Pulaski county an excellent judge, wants to go to the Legislature. As he is a republican his chances are good.

The news comes that Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink will take a year's rest. What are the American people going to do with their surplus dollars in the mean time?

Kentucky will not have a building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, but Kentuckians will spend all the money they can get hold of in seeing the sights the big show will afford.

Somerset is having trouble in the selection of a tax collector. Up here in Stanford the tax collector is having trouble getting the coin from the tax-payer.

Bernum Adams, of Clarke county had a leg broken in a railroad accident, but fortunately for him it was a wooden one that he has been using a long time.

"Free silver" Johnson, formerly of this county but now a citizen of Wilmore, is a candidate for the Legislature. There is no gainsaying the fact that if elected he will be heard from.

S. E. Mahan, a Williamsburg capitalist, is the leader in the building of a $25,000 hotel at Williamsburg. Pity the Danville people can not get the gentleman interested in Little Britain.

New York paid out $18,000,000 for police protection last year. And in the face of that sum the murders, burglaries, hold-ups, etc., were greater than usual. Seems to be a sink-hole somewhere in that department of the metropolis.

Harlan says he did not steal or sell any harness and that he bought the bridge court day from a man he didn't know. Judge Bailey will have his trial Thursday and held him under $250 bond, which he couldn't furnish, so is boarding with Jailer DeBorde.

C. O. Bank Made Good Showing.

Cashier J. C. Bailey, of that bustling and progressive financial institution of the East End, the Crab Orchard Banking Company, was in Stanford late last week. He and the friends of that bank are greatly pleased with the showing during the past year. At a meeting of the stockholders last week, all of the board of directors who have managed the institution so well, were re-elected, and the same staff of officials chosen for the bank with the addition of Tom Hays Bronaugh as bookkeeper. The bank declared its usual six per cent dividend for the year and is planning for increased prosperity this year.

MUST NUMBER HOUSES

Post-Office Departments' Order to Stanford Residents

In order to continue to receive mail delivered free it is important that every house in Stanford be numbered. Postmistress Mary Bruce has been notified that this must be done as it is an inflexible requirement of the postoffice department. The City of Stanford and the Commercial Club are co-operating in this matter, and have made arrangements with J. W. Hamilton to have the correct numbers supplied at a small cost. The following notice has been issued to the citizens in support of the matter:

TOBACCO SELLS FOR $35.00 PER HUNDRED AT DANVILLE HOUSE

ON WALNUT STREET

W. C. Weaver, of Lincoln County, Receives this Price for Over 200 Pounds

J. P. Buise, Casey County, Receives $34.00 Per Hundred for one Basket. Dozens of Baskets Sell for $20.00.

We have sold nearly one million pounds of tobacco in the past two weeks. With experienced floor-men and expert bookkeepers, we have been able to handle this vast amount of business without a hitch.

It is admitted by everyone that Danville right now is the best market in the state, barring none, and the Danville Warehouse on Walnut street "gets the price." We have the best and most liberal buyers that could be gotten together anywhere, for the sellers, but with a force of experienced men, who have mastered every detail of grading and handling large quantities of tobacco, there has been little delay. It is really a pleasure for one to go to the Danville Tobacco Warehouse. Never in the history of the Danville market has tobacco rolled in in such quantities as it has in the past two weeks. It has been a mystery how President Bright has avoided days of delay. Every employee has a cheery greeting for you. They cling to their motto, "Yours for legitimate business." Added to these the silver tongued auctioneer, Capt. R. E. Holland, who does the rest. He "gets the price."

A few of the good averages made in the past few days on entire offerings were as follows:

Farris and Merriman, Boyle, average	$13.30
Hunt and Dillinger, Boyle, average	14.25
Bright and Bell, Boyle, average	12.80
Anderson and Webber, Boyle, average	13.35
Fox and Daily, Boyle, average	14.10
W. A. Burnside, Garrard, average	13.90
Yandell and Hogue, Boyle, average	14.87

Remember, if you have "the goods," we can get the price, with the best auctioneer in Kentucky.

Every farmer who owns his farm ought to have printed stationery, with his name, the name of his postoffice and properly given. The heading might also give the names of whatever crop he specializes in, or his specialties in stock. Neatly printed stationery gives you a personality and a standing with any person or firm to whom you write and insures the proper reading of your name and address. If you wish to write to your congressman or member of the legislature, or if you have a request to make of your county superintendent of schools, or if you wish information from any business house, in any case your letter will have increased weight and receive more and quicker attention if you use stationery. Get the habit. Come in the I. J. office and have us print you 500 sheets of good paper with envelopes to match.
